

NCB Garden Expo 2018

(an INDOOR Event!)

Saturday, May 19 from 9:30am-2pm
North County Branch Library Meeting Room

Experts on various topics of gardening. Bring your questions and enjoy the displays!

- The Rutgers Master Gardeners of Hunterdon County - Two tables full of information and expert gardeners
- The Native Plant Society of NJ - a statewide non-profit organization dedicated to the appreciation, protection, and study of the native flora of New Jersey.
- Orchid expert Carole Stober of Stony Hill Gardens in Chester will be showing how to repot an orchid.
- Cacti and Succulents expert Jeff VanNewkirk (9:30-12)
- The Northwest NJ Beekeepers Assoc. – who will have an observation hive with live bees. Learn how to start a hive in even a small backyard. Bees are important not just for honey, but for pollination as well!
- Hunterdon County Library Seed Exchange - Come learn about this new addition to our Library System. Also consider donating your unused seed packets from 2016-2018.
- Invasive Species Strike Team - a statewide cooperative effort to prevent the spread of emerging invasive species across the state.
- “Bring a Plant-Take a Plant” - Bring or take a plant, seedling or cutting for rooting (as supplies last).
- Terrariums expert Sandy Gay - Samples, a step-by-step display, and demos at 11am, 11:30am and 1pm.
- Clinton Conservancy - Kathy Madden will explain their mission to attract pollinators by planting gardens around Clinton Township.
- Holistic Pet with Fifth Dimension Healing Energy - Learn how your pet can use nature’s healing gifts from the great outdoors to safely and naturally address everyday common health issues.
- Valley Crest Farm and Preserve - Discusses their mission including produce and respect for farms & nature.
